Designed by: Keren Baker

Using a fun reverse painting technique to create a painted card with amazing shine using Grafix Clear Dura-Lar Film!

Supplies:

Grafix Clear Dura-Lar Film
PaperArtsy Fresco Finish Chalk Acrylic paint in Aquamarine, Cerulean, Eggplant, Lavender, Mermaid, and Wisteria
Sugar Pea Designs Stamps – Everyday Sentiments
Altenew Stamps - Incredible
Ranger Jet Black Archival Ink
Tsukineko Jet Black Stazon
White Cardstock
Patterned Paper in Green
Die-Cut Machine
White Gel Pen and Black Marker
Foam Pads

Directions:

1. Cut a cardstock base measuring 12cm x 18cm and adhere a slightly smaller layer of green paper.
2. Then use the Grafix Clear Dura-Lar Film, stamp some flowers using the stamp set using Stazon and let the ink dry.
3. Next use the darkest colors of paint add flicks out from the center on the opposite side to which you stamped on and let the ink dry.
4. Use the next lightest color (whether purple or blue paint) to do the same outward flicks. Let paint completely dry.
5. Using the lightest color of paint, go over the entire flower still on the reverse. When the paint is dry and you turn the flower over, you should see a flower with dimension from the paint.
6. Trim out the flowers and stamp and trim out the centers too.
7. Fold the statements upwards and glue them to the center of the flowers.
8. Add the flowers to the base adding the purple one with foam pads.
9. Stamp the sentiment using Archival Ink and add to the card using foam pads.
10. Add black and white dots all around the flowers to complete the card.
